Syllable division END OF THE YEAR ACTIVITIES

END OF THE YEAR SYLLABLE DIVISION ACTIVITIES

Say goodbye to boring, repetitive syllable division drills and make learning fun with our End of the Year Syllable Division Activity. These fun, no-prep activities provide an enjoyable, interactive way for first, second, third, and fourth-grade students to practice syllable division using the Orton Gillingham and science of reading methods.

This activity includes over 190 words and 30 pages to cut and divide. As students learn to identify the seven syllable types, they get to divide the word and cut the pictures into syllables. Plus, they get to have fun coloring the corresponding pictures of sunglasses, popsicles, watermelon, or surfboards. Thanks to its simple and efficient design, the activity can be used for independent work or for the entire class.

These no prep, fun and engaging syllable division phonics worksheets help students to master all seven syllable types. These fun activities are aligned with Orton Gillingham and Science of Reading. Students love creating silly new words with the syllables once they have been divided.

DIRECTIONS

1. Decide which syllable type you would like to practice. Each week has practice for all syllable types, as well as two pages of mixed practice.
2. Give students one full page.
3. Allow students time to color the images and cut them out. They are not splitting them yet.
4. Once they are colored, as a class, in partners, or individually have students follow the syllable division steps to divide the word.
5. Have students cut the word in half at the correct space.
6. Student can now mix the syllables up to create new silly words!
